DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claim 21 is objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c), as being of improper dependent form for failing to further limit the subject matter of a previous claim. Applicant is required to cancel the claim(s), or amend the claim(s) to place the claim(s) in proper dependent form, or rewrite the claim(s) in independent form.

In claim 21, the phrase "the method of claim 20 wherein the method of claim 1 is only performed in the first partition" is unclear.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-49 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Grasso et al (US Patent No. 5,355,250 cited by applicant) in view of Czarnocha et al (US Patent No. 6,504,630).

Regarding claims 1, 11, 19, 22, 25, 26, 31, 39-45 and 49, referring to Figure 3, Grasso discloses in an optical transceiver (i.e., optical transceiver 2, Fig. 3) having a photodetector (i.e., photodetector R2, Fig. 3) and a laser transmitter (i.e., laser transmitter T2, Fig. 3), a method of minimizing a risk of damage to human tissue, caused by an exposure to an amount of laser radiation in excess of a maximum permissible exposure level, the method comprising:

monitoring at the photodetector (i.e., photodetector R2, Fig. 3) for receipt of an optical data signal;

determining, using a controller (i.e., protection device 19, Fig. 3), if a received optical data signal satisfies at least one expected activity criterion; and if the received optical data signal does not satisfy the at least one expected activity criterion, determining that an eye safety fault condition exists and causing a shut down the laser transmitter (col. 1, lines 55-60, col. 2, lines 47-67, col. 3, lines 1-20, col. 4, lines 16-67 and col. 5, lines 1-47).

Grasso differs from claims 1, 11, 19, 22, 25, 26, 31, 39-45 and 49 in that he fails to teach an optical transceiver having at least two photodiodes and at least two laser transmitters. However, Czarnocha in US Patent No. 6,504,630 teaches an automatic power shut-down system with an optical transceiver having at least two photodiodes and at least two laser transmitters (Figs. 1, 6 and 7, col. 9, lines 58-67 and col. 10, lines 1-62, col. 3, lines 60-67, col. 4, lines 1-32 and lines 62-67 and col. 5, lines 1-46). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having skill in the art at the time the invention was made to incorporate the optical transceiver having at least two photodiodes and at least two laser transmitters as taught by Czarnocha in the system of Grasso. One of ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to do this since Czarnocha suggests in column 9, lines 58-67 and col. 10, lines 1-62, col. 3, lines 60-67, col. 4, lines 1-32 and lines 62-67 and col. 5, lines 1-46 that using such the optical transceiver having at least two photodiodes and at least two laser transmitters has advantage of allowing easily detecting the signals to control the laser transmitter and to protect the eyes of the maintenance staff.

Regarding claims 2-7, 16-18, 23, 24, and 27-30, the combination of Grasso and Czarnocha teaches comparing the optical data signal to an expected signal (col. 4 of Grasso, lines 16-67 and col. 10 of Czarnocha, lines 25-62).

Regarding claims 8-10 and 46-48, the combination of Grasso and Czarnocha teaches determining that the eye safety fault condition has been corrected, and automatically turning on at least one shut down transmitter (col. 4, lines 16-67 and col. 5, lines 1-14 of Grasso and col. 10 of Czarnocha, lines 48-62).

Regarding claims 12-15, 20, 21 and 32-38, the combination of Grasso and Czarnocha teaches the transmission portion comprises at least two partitions (Figs. 1, 6 and 7 of Czarnocha)
